Garden Grove Youth Gives Life To Save His Sister

DROWNS AS GIRL SAVED
BY ANOTHER

Heroic Efforts of Brother Prove Fruitless When
He Sinks at Her Side
FEAR HEART ATTACK

Orange Man and Others
Go to Rescue of Pair
and Three Pulled Ashore

FOREST E. HALE, 24, of Garden Grove, gave his life for his sister in the waters of Newport Bay late yesterday afternoon. Jerome Bowen, of Orange, saved the girl, Peggy Hale, 19, who was swimming at a point near shore where the harbor channel enters the bay. Swimming is safe there if bathers keep close to shore. The girl had not yet learned to swim. She waded into deep water and the current was carrying her beyond her depth when she called to her brother, who was swimming less than 100 feet away.

Forest came to his sister's aid. Just as she got in water beyond her depth he reached her side. He seemed to collapse and sank beneath the water. The sister, frightened, seized him by the hand, still screaming loudly for help.

Jerome Bowen and his wife were resting in the sand beside the bay. Bowen, who is not a very good swimmer, nevertheless struck bravely out to the rescue of the girl and her brother, struggling and being carried farther into the current. Mrs. Bowen urged her husband to hurry. Bowen reached his hand to Miss Hale, who had regained her composure and urged Bowen to save her brother. They were then 20 to 25 yards out from shore.

"Hold him tight and hold tight to my hand," Bowen answered and tried to swim to shore dragging Miss Hale, who in turn held tightly to her brother's wrist. Bowen struggled with all his strength but was making slow progress. Fred Welk, postmaster of Glendora, who was on the beach ran to his auto and obtained a rope. He waded into the water and tossed an end of the rope to Bowen, who seized it with his free hand. Half a dozen men, women and girls took hold of the other end of the rope and walked away from the water up the sloping sand, dragging Bowen and Miss Hale and her unconscious brother ashore.

FORTUNES UNITED IN LONDON WEDDING

LONDON, June 12.—(UP)—Two of America's greatest fortunes were united today when Anthony J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia, was married to Mrs. Margaret Schultz, only daughter of William Boyce Thompson, copper magnate.

The ceremony was conducted quietly at the Princes Row register office shortly after 11 a.m.

AVIATRIX HAS CLOSE CALL IN AUTOGIRO FALL

Amelia Earhart Saves Lives of Hundreds When She Maneuvers Ship

BILENE, Tex., June 12.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam, ocean liner, escaped unhurt here today when her autogiro crashed in taking off for Dallas.

The autogiro had reached a height of 30 feet when Mrs. Putnam said a slight air eddy caused the machine to veer toward the crowd which had gathered to see her take off.

To avoid injury to spectators she pulled the machine to the ground at once, damaging the rotors and bending the propeller. She planned to have the plane repaired here and hoped to proceed to Dallas and Fort Worth in three or four days.

"Landing didn't even jar us," said Mrs. Putnam after the crash. "It had been any other plane than an autogiro we might not be here now. As it was we weren't even shaken up."

"We could have made it all right if it hadn't been for the crowd. We might have anyway, but I was afraid a child might run out, or we might hit a car."

Mrs. Putnam landed in the only cleared space, circle about 60 feet in diameter, between a crowd along the airport fence and another along the highway. Her mechanic was with her in the ship.

The combination of thin air, resulting from the extreme heat and dryness, and a miniature whirlwind were blamed for the accident. The air eddy forced the ship toward the ground and crowd at the critical time.

New rotors and other parts will probably have to be sent from the factory at Philadelphia. Mrs. Putnam said, and this may delay her departure from Abilene as long as a week.

Rum Ship Sinks
After Collision
With Guard Boat

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 12.—(UP)—The British ship, "Shuben Acadia," sank today with a cargo of liquor after collision with the coast guard destroyer "Davis" 50 miles south of Montauk Point, L. I., Commander John S. Baylis, commandant of the coast guard base here, announced.

Radio reports to the coast guard said the vessel's crew of 10 had been rescued by the "Davis" and the "Markip," another destroyer, which was trailing the "Shuben Acadia."

Commander Baylis said his ad- vices were indefinite as to the exact cause of collision. The "Davis" reported there was no contact boat in sight when the accident occurred. The "Shuben Acadia" was said to have remained afloat for an hour after the crash.

Hiker Gets Ride
From El Paso and Then Robs Driver

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(UP)—Edward M. Fisher, of East Chicago, befriended a hiker in El Paso and gave him a "lift" to Los Angeles only to be rewarded by having his money taken from him at the point of a gun, sheriff's officers reported today.

A search was being conducted for the man who, after being driven as far as Alhambra, whipped out his gun, took Fisher's wallet containing $12 and then ordered his benefactor to get out of the car.

PLANES GO SOUTH
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 12.—(UP)—Thirty-seven pursuit planes and six transports of the army's 20th pursuit group left Pearson field here at 7:20 this morning for San Francisco.

Eager to complete their 12,000-mile jaunt around the nation, the two squadrons forming the group intend to stop at Medford about 9:30, fly south and circle San Francisco, then return to their base at Mather field, Sacramento.

Car Accident
Fails To Halt Doctor

FRESNO, June 12.—(UP)—Overturning of his automobile while on an emergency call proved only an irritating delay to Dr. C. O. Mitchell here last night.

After the collision on R street, Dr. Mitchell found his car resting on its top. He climbed out a window with his physician's kit and started on a trot for the home of his patient, a mile distant. A passenger gave him a lift and Dr. Mitchell arrived in time to save his patient, he reported to police who called him while investigating the accident.

HAIGHT NAMES
THREE OTHERS
IN OIL PROBE

Total of Seven Involved in Richfield Case by State Official

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(UP)—Three more men, making a total of seven, were involved today in charges by State Corporation Commissioner R. L. Haight that former officials of the Richfield Oil company made "unauthorized withdrawals" of company funds totaling several million dollars.

In a supplemental report to his original charges filed with the district attorney's office naming four officials, Haight added the names of Charles Garretson, vice president; G. P. Lyons, comptroller, and C. L. Hancock, assistant comptroller. Haight said all three had large debit balances, for which there are no vouchers or detailed expense accountings.

Those named in the original charges are C. M. Fuller, former president; J. A. Talbott, former chairman of the board, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in San Francisco last Tuesday; R. W. McKee, former assistant to Talbott and A. M. Kelley, vice president.

Another development in the case was that Allan Cray, member of the newly formed grand jury which will investigate the charges, was excused from duty temporarily "because of possible prejudice."

Crav, retired banker and former partner in the brokerage firm of E. F. Hutton and company, which handled many of the stock transactions mentioned by Haight, was excused at his own request.

Indicating that one of Haight's specific accusations that $3,500,000 in stock "of doubtful validity" issued three years ago by the company, probably never would receive official scrutiny owing to the statute of limitations, chief Deputy District Attorney Robert P. Stewart said that the grand jury would not hold a special meeting before its regular meeting on June 18. Haight pointed out that the statute of limitations will apply June 18.

Schumann-Heink's
Film Suit Taken
Under Advisement

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(UP)—The suit for $86,000 for alleged breach of contract brought against Edwin Carew, film producer, by Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, noted singer, and her son, Ferdinand, was taken under advisement yesterday by Superior Judge L. T. Price.

Mme. Schumann-Heink testified that she entered into a contract with Carew to star her in a motion picture which he failed to produce. The son claimed he was to have had a leading part in the film.

Carew denied any personal liability, claiming production of the film was contingent upon his ability to obtain British backing and that this had been prevented by the business depression.

ORANGE OVER
25 YEARS DIES

Mrs. Ada Meadows Passes
at St. Joseph's Hospital
After Long Illness

MRS. ADA MEADOWS, 54, a resident of Orange for the past 27 years, passed away at 6:25 p. m. yesterday in St. Joseph's hospital after an illness of several years duration. She had been in poor health for the past three years and had been in a hospital almost continuously for over a year.

Mrs. Meadows was the wife of C. W. Meadows, proprietor of the Meadows Print shop at Orange and the mother of Don C. Meadows, employed in the Long Beach schools, and now on leave of absence at the University of California, where he is working on his master's degree. Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Meadows, with their nine-months-old son, are expected to arrive at Orange tonight from Berkeley, where they will be with his father at 231 North Grand street.

Prior to her recent years of illness Mrs. Meadows was prominent in Orange social life and also had been connected with the newspaper business both in Orange and Santa Ana. She was a past matron of the Scepter chapter, O. E. S. at Orange and a member of the Presbyterian church there.

About nine years ago she was a member of The Register staff, working as a proof reader. She also had done similar work on the Orange News and at one time was society editor of that paper.

Second Time Government
Accused Him of Violating Dry Laws

CHICAGO, June 12.—(UP)—The federal grand jury indicted Alphonse "Scarface" Capone again today. He headed a list of 68 persons named in true bills charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Last week Capone was indicted on charges of evading income tax.

Although he has a reputation as the country's biggest liquor seller, this is only the second time the federal government has accused him of bootlegging. The previous indictment was quashed. Today's indictment was prepared by Oliver Pagan, indictment expert of the United States attorney general's office, and was returned before Circuit Judge John P. Barnes.

"Conspiracy to manufacture and transport beer," was the way Pagan stated.

Capone's last brush with the government over the liquor law was 10 years ago when he and numerous officials of Cicero, Ill., were accused of conspiracy. The case against him was nolle prossed.

Among the overt acts charged against the reputed bootleg master are the purchase of trucks of the Betz Motor Truck company, in Hammond, Ind., in 1923 and 1929 and the identification of these trucks as ones captured later with loads of beer.

Favorite haunts of the Capone gang crop up in the citation of money orders for $2000 and $5000 which Capone is alleged to have received from co-conspirators in Chicago while vacationing in Miami.

One charge is that Capone and a group of his aids discussed their conspiracy plans in the Lexington hotel in Chicago a year ago today.

The indictment reveals Capone as a man of many aliases. Names other than Alphonse Capone attributed to him include Al Brown, Albert Acosta, Frank Ross, John Brown, Shorky Capone, Frank Hart and Louis Hart.

Deputy marshals were instructed to bring Capone into court on the new indictment. He is at liberty on bond in connection with the income tax case and is believed to be in Chicago.

Several hearings have been held on the attempt of Salisbury to attach Julian's salary and property to apply on $191,000 in judgments held against the Oklahoma oil man, but attorneys have piled up counter legal actions, delaying final disposition.

Chinese Soldiers
Continue Fight On Communist Horde

SHANGHAI, June 12.—(UP)—Small contingents of government troops continued their offensive today against Communist bandits near Yenking, where hundreds of natives falling into their clutches have been slaughtered.

The bandits, pillaging districts in Eastern Kiangsi and Western Fukien provinces, have consistently killed all their captives.

Kid McCoy's Plea
For Parole Before
Prison Directors

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., June 12.—(UP)—The parole application of Norman Seiby, once famous in the prize ring as "Kid McCoy," appeared today on the June parole calendar for action by the state prison board.

Seiby, convicted of manslaughter in connection with the killing of his sweetheart, Mrs. Teresa Mora, in Los Angeles in 1925, has served half of his 20-year sentence with good behavior accounted for.

McCoy's plea for liberty, signed by many prominent persons, including Vice President Charles Curtis, Mayor James J. Walker of New York, General J. J. Pershing and others, has been under investigation by Governor James Rolph Jr.

$500,000 Damage
Caused By Rains
In South Dakota

IPSWICH, S. D., June 12.—(UP)—Farmers estimated that rain and hail during the past two days have done $500,000 damage to crops and buildings in South Dakota.

More than half a foot of rain fell in the eastern section of the state during the past few days, washing out highways and interfering with railroad traffic slightly. A few homes along the low lands were flooded and residents moved to second floors or other dwellings.

GARDEN GROVE BOY GIVES LIFE TO SAVE SISTER

Hale in an effort to revive him. He had been under water less than five minutes, although it seemed to anxious watchers much longer. Someone telephoned the life saving department at station No. 1, 703 East Bay avenue, and two firemen and two life guards raced with their apparatus to the scene of the drowning, closely followed by Chief of Police Hedgkinson in the police car.

For two hours the rescue squad, directed by a physician, worked over Hale's limp body, to no purpose. Some who witnessed the accident thought Hale had suffered a heart attack or an attack of cramps as he reached his sister and that death was caused by heart failure rather than drowning. They had partaken of a lunch shortly before the accident.

Bowen lives on a ranch between Orange and Olive on Route No. 2.

Miss Peggy Hale suffered from nervous shock and from the effects of water she swallowed before her brother came to her aid. She was given first aid treatment by the rescue squad when she was dragged ashore by Jerome Bowen and was quickly revived, and taken to the Newport hospital. Later she was taken to the family home at Garden Grove.

The body is at the Wimbler Funeral home in Santa Ana. Coroner Charles D. Brown announced today that he would not hold an inquest.

3 DEFENDANTS SENT TO JAIL ON PROBATION

Three probation hearings were concluded before Judge James L. Allen during the session of criminal court today all of which resulted in probation being granted on condition that the applicants serve one year in the county jail. Two informations were also filed in court today by the office of District Attorney Sam L. Collins, bringing charges against one woman and one man.

Two of those given jail sentences as conditions of probation were before the court on charges of operating autos while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. They were Frank Bippus and Marcos Carrillo, each of whom was granted probation following their pleas of guilty, for a period of three years. Bippus was also ordered to pay a fine of $200 in addition to the jail sentence as a condition of probation.

The third prisoner who won clemency was M. R. Owens, charged with burglary of the Goetz service station on South Main street on May 27. His probation period was set by the court for the period of five years.

Ernest E. Ramos, who was charged with robbery in connection with his alleged act of taking $6.60 from William Anderson on March 9 while threatening his victim with a knife, entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and will be tried before a jury on June 22.

The other information brought two counts against Mrs. J. Branciforgy in connection with a $20 check issued on May 10, and issuing a bank check with intent to defraud in connection with a check for $10 issued May 18. Her arraignment was continued until the afternoon session of the court to permit a conference with J. F. Conkey, whom the court appointed as attorney to defend her.

Escaped Juvenile
'Spotted' By Cop

In February 1930, a 16 year old boy escaped from the county juvenile home. He came back to Santa Ana yesterday and although he had changed in looks, had changed his name and even had his "new" initials tattooed on his arm, he landed at the police station.

Sergeant Charles Wolford saw the boy on the street. There was something familiar about him, so he stopped and talked to him, accusing him of being the "escapee." The boy stuck to his story for a long time but finally confessed that he was the youth who went over the fence more than a year ago.

The boy was in the detention home awaiting transfer to the Whittier state school on a petty theft charge.

RESIDENT OF ORANGE OVER 25 YEARS DIES

Although complete funeral arrangements will not be made until tomorrow, services probably will be held on Monday and interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery, with the Gillogy Funeral home, of Orange, in charge.

In addition to her husband and son, Mrs. Meadows is survived by her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Hopkins, of San Pedro; a sister, Mrs. Charles Stewart, and two nieces, LaVerne and Virginia Stewart, of 324 South Garnett street, Santa Ana; two brothers, Arthur L. Hopkins, Kansas City, and Donald M. Hopkins, of Illinois, and one grandson, Donald Francis Meadows.

Mrs. Meadows was born in Sullivan, Ind., on Sept. 23, 1876. Her family later moved to Topeka, Kas., where she received her education. In 1891 the family moved to Pittsburgh, Kas., and on Sept. 19, 1894, she was married to C. W. Meadows. In 1895 Mr. and Mrs. Meadows moved to Soo, Ind., where she entered the newspaper business, and she did her first work in a newspaper office. Following the birth of their son, Don Meadows, in 1897, they moved to Lawrence, Kas., in 1898, where Meadows continued newspaper work.

The family was established in Orange on December 31, 1903. Meadows at that time was working on the Orange Post, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Armor of Orange. Later he was connected with The Register, as was Mrs. Meadows, and in 1916 he opened the Meadows Print shop at Orange, where for five years Mrs. Meadows was his assistant.

Since 1923 Mrs. Meadows had been in failing health and often during the past three years her condition has been regarded as critical. She dropped off to sleep early yesterday afternoon. About 4 p. m. a change in her condition was noticed, and without regaining consciousness, she passed away at 6:15 p. m.

EVANGELIST TO ADDRESS SANTA ANA RESIDENTS

Another capacity crowd gathered at the tabernacle at the corner of Broadway and Clementine streets in Anaheim last night to hear John Brown of Arkansas, evangelist, deliver one of his sermons. Delegations were present from Orange, Fullerton, and the Wesley Methodist and Church of Christ of Anaheim. Tonight large delegations are expected to attend from Yorba Linda, and the Nazarene and Presbyterian churches of Anaheim. The largest delegation present will be a group of 500 that will attend from Santa Ana.

Last night John Brown took the theme of his sermon from a passage in Hebrews, "But now once again he divided the text of his sermon into four parts. In the first he used as his subject 'Once in the End of the World' in which he pointed out the fact that the end was prophesied and that it behoved men to be prepared. The second portion was 'Once to Die' in which he pointed out that all men have but once to die and should be prepared to meet their Maker. The third division was 'Once Offered' in which he declared that Christ had been once offered to men to atone for the sins and that 'Once Again,' the subject of the last division, He would appear to save men.

FINAL SESSION OF INSTITUTE STAGED

A large number of growers from Orange county attended the last session of the Growers' Institute held in the wooden building on the Orange County Valencia Orange Show and Fair grounds this morning. Dr. George P. Clements, of the agricultural department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce spoke on "Marginal Agriculture."

Dr. F. G. Cottrell, director of the fixed nitrate laboratory, United States Department of Commerce, spoke on fertilizers, and stressed trends in production.

Yesterday morning Professor H. J. Quayle, of the Riverside citrus experiment station, declared that the Valencia orange would suffer much more than the navel or any other variety of orange if the Mediterranean fruit fly became established here. The reason the Valencia orange is more susceptible to the pest is the fact that orange matures in the summer, a fact greatly appreciated by the fly. The lemon is immune to their attack, he said.

The second speaker on the program was A. C. Fleury, quarantine supervisor of the state department of agriculture, who told how pests are kept out of the country.

Officers were searching for another man when they entered the house said to be occupied by Traynor.

Hughston Brought Back from Tahoe

Merwin Hughston, 23, of 1327 Grace street, Santa Ana, was returned here last night from Lake Tahoe, where he was arrested by Chief of Police F. W. Howard. He is in the county jail on a statutory charge.

The arrest of the youth was made after a 15 year old girl was taken into custody here last Saturday night while out riding with two other youths. Melvin Long, Santa Ana youth, was fined $250 on a driving drunk charge, in connection with the case, and Clem Holmberg was turned over to the district attorney's office, which is making an investigation of the affair.

The girl is being held in the county detention home.

Calvin Coolidge Says . . .

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 12.—Practically everything in the way of original records of the discovery, exploration and settlement of our country is in Europe. A great deal of Colonial history is also located there. In Scandinavia and Iceland documents possibly exist relating to this country before the time of Columbus. Scholars report a vast amount of material in the archives of Spain, France, and Holland concerning our early history that has never been carefully investigated. The Vatican is supposed to be another source of important material. London has been only partially examined.

All these original sources of the history of this country ought to be thoroughly explored by competent scholars.

The new method of photographing documents on films so that they can be reproduced on a screen when wanted would seem to be an inexpensive method of making these ancient records available to students. This work might well be undertaken by the national government, by a university, or some of the charitable foundations. A great mass of important documents are known to exist from the observations of those searching for facts concerning some specific event or individual life, but they have never been systematically studied. The whole record should be disclosed.

The new national champions will be named tomorrow night and prizes awarded after the judges complete their task of checking on neatness of pack as this item is the most important in deciding the winners.

The team establishing the speed record finished their boxes as follows: Virginia Jennings 9 minutes, 27.25 seconds for the best record of the entire list of contestants; Aletha Hall 9 minutes, 41.9-10 seconds.

Second place went to the team representing the Consolidated Oranges Growers of Orange. Time was:

Edna Robinson, 10 minutes, 10.2-5 seconds and Myrl Archer, 10 minutes, 29.2-5 seconds.

Fourth place was awarded the Santiago Orange Growers Association of Orange with the following time: Pearl Sain, 10 minutes, 13.2-5 seconds; Rose Young, 10 minutes, 29.2-5 seconds.

Iola Windolph of Orange will reign tonight as queen of the show with the crowning of the official Valencia Orange Show queen scheduled for the closing night, Sunday. The American Legion will have charge of the program Sunday.

All children under 12 years of age will be admitted free to the exposition today, tonight and tomorrow.

Tomorrow has been set aside as German day with a musical program scheduled for the afternoon in addition to addresses by Max Socha, president of the German-American Alliance of Southern California and Los Angeles and Edward Stutz, editor of the Los Angeles German language newspaper Staats-Zeitung.

The music program will feature group singing by the combined Concordia Clubs of Los Angeles, Pasadena and Anaheim.

John W. Crill, president of the Farm bureau, will give a brief outline of the Western States Farm bureau conference to be held in Santa Ana early in July.

Reckless Driving Accusation Made

Asserted to have crashed into a parked car here at 4 o'clock this morning and failing to stop after the accident, William McGreavy, of 1111 East First street, was arrested at Newport Beach and returned here. He was given a ticket for reckless driving.

The complaining witness in the case is J. V. Ditz, of the Pickwick hotel, Anaheim, sales engineer for the Golden States Citrus Products company.

PROTEST PLAN OF RIVERSIDE ON S. A. RIVER

Protesting against plans which it is reported are being made by the city of Riverside to start wells in the Santa Ana river bottoms in Riverside, which if operated will affect Orange county's water supply, and which it is said is in violation of an old agreement made by water companies of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, a letter of protest against such action has been forwarded to the Riverside authorities by Attorney Horace C. Head, representing the Santa Ana River Development company, the Anaheim Union Water company and the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company, it was learned today.

The letter of protest followed a joint meeting of the boards of directors of the three Orange county water companies at which the reported plans of the city of Riverside was revealed. According to Attorney Head the city is purchasing additional land and water rights and planning to put down two 20-inch wells with large pumps, supposedly as an emergency standby service in case the river fails to meet the needs of the city. The basin from which the city now obtains its supply should break. But his communication to Riverside water officials states that there are reports to the effect that this is merely a pretended reason and he asks a plain statement as to what the real intentions of the city are in the matter.

There is in existence an agreement providing for limitation of the quantity of water which should be taken by the various companies in the three counties and the places from which it should be taken, Head reports, which was made following litigation some years ago. The agreement provides that water for supplying the needs of Riverside shall come from the San Bernardino basin, and none shall be taken from the Riverside basin except as a last resort or as an emergency.

The Riverside Water company was one of the parties to this agreement and it subsequently sold its domestic water system to the city of Riverside. Later the Riverside Water company was granted permission in a supplemental agreement to sink some wells near its main canal in the city of Riverside to be used as a source of an emergency water supply if the supply from the San Bernardino basin fell short. This spot is some two miles further from the river than the location on which it is reported the city plans to drill wells and water from the further site will affect Orange county water supplies much less, Head points out.

In commenting on the matter he said that the Riverside Water company had offered to permit the city to hook onto these wells near its main canal for standby emergency service free of charge, but that the apparent decision of the city to proceed with expenditure of a large sum for the wells at the river was what made Orange county water companies suspicious as to the real intent of Riverside.

Head's letter to the Riverside authorities closed with this paragraph: "We would very much appreciate definite written information from the authorities of the city of Riverside as to just what its plans are and our water companies wish it definitely understood that any unnecessary drain by Riverside Water company or the city of Riverside upon the Riverside basin will be contrary to the letter and spirit of the agreements under which we have been working for many years and would be detrimental to the interests of Orange county and resisted in every way possible by our people."

The matter has been referred by the Riverside city council to the board of public utilities of that community for consideration.

The text of the letter follows:

Mr. Francis Cuttle,
Pres. Riverside Water Company,
2556 Main Street,
Riverside, California.

Dear Mr. Cuttle:

Under date of May 26th, 1931, Riverside Water Company sent a communication to Santa Ana River Development Company, Anaheim Union Water Company and Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company, in which it was stated that the pumping of water from wells near the canal of your company in the city of Riverside, which wells were constructed under terms of an agreement dated November 2nd, 1925, was intended as a temporary expedient and still so considered. The communication further states that in order to properly protect the rights of your company, it will be necessary to pump water from its San Bernardino county sources and expresses the belief that so doing will lower the water table in certain moist areas and prevent surface evaporation. The communication further states that your company will revert to its sources in San Bernardino county and will pump sufficient water to obtain its major supply, using the wells in the Riverside Basin for auxiliary or emergency purposes and that your company has no intention of increasing the amount of water taken from the several sources.

This communication was presented and considered by a joint meeting of the board of directors of our water companies to whom your communication was addressed. The opinion of the board of directors as expressed at said meeting, was that the wells drilled by your company in the city of Riverside under the terms of the agreement of November 2nd, 1925, were to be used as emergency and temporary sources of supply when and if your supply from other sources mentioned in the agreement ahead of paragraph "e" in said agreement, should be insufficient to supply the quantity of water to which your company is entitled under the terms of its agreement with our Orange county companies. It has never been our understanding that your company would abandon any of its rights or sources of supply from San Bernardino county. The agreement of November 2nd, 1925, was merely to place the source of supply mentioned in paragraph "e" ahead of your use of water of Springbrook. It was the understanding that both of these sources are to be left as a last resort for maintaining your water supply.

One of the main objects of our agreements with your company has been to assure us that you would obtain your water as far up the river basin as possible and avoid placing a direct drain upon the Riverside basin except as a last resort.

In this connection, I wish to state that at the same joint meeting of the boards of directors of our companies, information derived from the press and other reliable sources was submitted to the directors indicating a plan by the city of Riverside to construct two or more 20-inch wells on the Garner tract in the city of Riverside and installing pumping plants therein and connecting the same with the city's distributing system. This plan has been announced as development of water for emergency use and it has been stated that this source of supply will only be used in case of failure by accident or otherwise of the supply from which the city now obtains water.

There were some reports to the effect that this was merely a pretended reason for incurring the large expense of constructing such wells and pumping plants and lifting water from that source several hundred feet into the city mains and that other sources of emergency supply had been offered to the city, which could be made available at comparatively little expense. If this report is true, our companies are very much concerned and it would seem that the tax payers of Riverside should also be considerably concerned. The writer personally asked the city attorney of Riverside if these proposed wells and pumping plants were intended for emergency use only and was informed by him that they were and would be used for that purpose only. Nevertheless, because of the rumors and reports that have reached our boards of directors, they are uneasy about this proposed development and additional purchases of lands and water rights by the city of Riverside from Twin Buttes Water company, which have also been reported to us. We would be most grateful if you would administer to us:

PRESIDENT

LEGION GROUP HEARS ADDRESS ABOUT RUSSIA

LIONS HEAR REPORT ABOUT YOSEMITE CONVENTION AND TALK ON POWER INDUSTRY

Three hundred ninety new Lions clubs were organized last year, six times as many clubs as were organized by all other service clubs together, according to President Homer Chaney, of the Santa Ana club, in a report given yesterday noon of the fourth district convention held this week in Yosemite.

With more than 2200 clubs and 75,000 members, Lions International is exerting a great power and influence and is fast taking its place as the largest service organization of its kind in the world, he said.

Santa Ana club members are happy in the selection of one of their charter members and first president of the local club, Dr. E. H. Rowland, as the unanimous choice of the convention for district governor for the ensuing year, and gave him an ovation at yesterday's luncheon meeting, where he made a short speech. Rowland's support from northern clubs was simply immense, according to President Chaney, and he is today the greatest influence in Lionism in California.

Committee reports at the meeting last night revealed that prizes in the desert toad race held recently were won as follows: Madden's Pharmacy, first; Reid Motor company, second; Broadway Fruit market, third; and Santa Ana Soda and Bottling works, fourth.

Arrangements are being completed for the joint observance of Flag day with the Elks Lodge by the Legion committee on that matter.

The joint basket picnic of the Legion and the auxiliary is to be held at Irvine park on June 26, it was announced at the meeting. W. Hunter Leach, commander, presided at the session last night.

Kidnapping Turns Out To Be Just Another Frolic

A hurried telephone call to the police station last night carried with it all the ear-marks of a good news story, until police officers investigated and the story "flopped" miserably.

A woman in an excited voice declared that she had seen three boys dragging a young girl off the street into an orange grove. Chief of Police Howard and several officers rushed to the place.

When they got there they found the girl and the three boys—all neighborhood pals. The girl, being bigger and stronger than the boys, was wrestling with all of them, while her father sat on the porch nearby and enjoyed the sport.

Earl Rowland was chairman of the day, and introduced Miss Lois Dunham, of Anaheim, an employee of the Southern Counties Gas company, who gave two readings, and R. U. Fitting, valuation engineer of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation, speaker of the day.

Twelve billion dollars have been invested in the electric industry since Edison installed the first central station in 1882, the speaker said. He dwelt at length upon the asserted lies, falsehoods, misstatements and representations, and other alleged slander on the part of politicians, such as Senatorial editor.

The next Lions gathering is the installation party for Lions and their wives, when the newly elected officers will be installed, to be held next Thursday evening at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach.

Fighter Fined On Driving Offense

James Rios, of Anaheim, who is known as Jimmy Rivers, in the local sporting world, and who is a well known prize fighter, this morning paid a fine of $125 on charges of driving while intoxicated, and of being drunk, according to a report made by Anaheim police. He appeared before Judge Frank Tausch in the recorder's court nearly a month ago when he was arrested and was given time to pay the fine, according to the police.

Fullerton Civic Body Will Assist On Road Widening

FULLERTON, June 12.—Plans for assisting the city council in the widening project for North Spindra road were completed at the meeting of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce directors at noon yesterday in McFarland's cafe, when Secretary Harry May was instructed to give all of the time necessary to assist the council.

The chamber directors expressed the opinion that the possibility of the state withdrawing aid in the project might appear unless the work was started in the near future. The directors also voiced approval of working out the entire project from Chapman avenue north to the city limits.

That the First Fullerton Jacaranda Festival was more successful than many persons had anticipated with the declaration of Secretary May, was pointed to the fact that Fullerton was presented to hundreds of tourists throughout Southern California who made it a point to view the blossoms of trees.

It was voted to hold the pot-luck club dinner through the summer months on the second Thursday of the month, and the Midway City public club parties, which are held each second and fourth Friday evenings, will be held on the same dates.

BREA, June 12.—In the absence of President Harlan LeGro, not yet returned from the Lions state convention in Los Angeles, C. C. Kinsler presided at the chamber of commerce meeting held in the Olson and Dyer cafe here Wednesday.

H. B. Heyn, representing the Johns-Mansville company, spoke on asbestos mining, exhibiting asbestos "rock" and explaining the method of taking it from the lodes where it is found. The largest such deposits in the world, he said, are to be found in the province of Quebec. Some mines are found in Arizona. Twenty tons of the asbestos "rock" must be refined to secure one ton of the fiber.

Yesterday's meeting was the final meeting of the summer season, the next meeting scheduled for September 2.

Booster Body Will Protest Dance Ruling

The Chamber of Commerce of Seal Beach is to complain against the county's ordinance pertaining to public dances, according to information received here.

The complaint comes particularly from Frank Heagly, dance hall owner at Seal Beach, it is understood, and is based on the fact that the ordinance requires a duly appointed deputy sheriff to be present at all the dances, this officer to be paid by the dance hall management.

According to Sheriff Logan Jackson, so long as the ordinance is in effect here, he will do all the appointing of officers to these dances, this remark coming after it was stated that officers at Seal Beach had announced they would attend the dances without pay.

Deputy sheriffs who patrol the dances at Seal Beach get $6 per night, it is understood, and this money is extra pay for them. Sheriff Jackson has been assigning his court bailiffs to the dances during the past several months, one or the other working temporarily at different dances, he stated. Because of the expense of these deputies, Heagly is said to have taken the matter up before the beach chamber of commerce, which body is expected to take its troubles before the county board of supervisors.

BILL GUARDS BUYER OF REAL PROPERTY

Further protection to the real estate buying public is assured under the bill adopted by the last legislature which has been signed by Gov. James Rolph, according to W. F. Croddy, secretary of the Santa Ana Realty board.

The bill compels subdividers to file a statement of conditions of the title of the land offered, with mention of encumbrances thereon in terms and conditions of said encumbrance. Copies of the contract proposed to be used are also required to be filed. "This will tend to do away with the buyer completely paying out on a contract and not being able to secure title because of the inability of the seller to secure a release, or seller being foreclosed on and buyer losing equity in the property because of the foreclosure," Croddy said.

The bill also protects the word "Realtor" and makes provision for written examinations of brokers and salesmen in the future.

NEED FOR SCHOOL ADDITIONS TOLD

Necessity of additional room at Delhi and Spurgeon schools was brought to the attention of members of the Santa Ana board of education at its regular meeting this week by Dr. Percy R. Davis, assistant superintendent of schools.

There is a need at Delhi school for a teachers' rest room. Need at the Spurgeon school is for larger quarters in the kindergarten.

Members of the board determined to make personal inspection to determine how the situation could be met.

Dr. Davis and George Wells, president of the board, were selected to attend the meetings of the Superintendents' Conference of the N. E. A. at Berkeley under auspices of the University of California, from July 6 to 17.

Roettinger Made Cantil President

Paul D. Roettinger was made president of the Cantil Development company, succeeding Dr. U. G. Littell, at an election held Wednesday.

Roettinger formerly was vice president and secretary of the company. Mrs. Beryl B. Horton, of Los Angeles, formerly of Santa Ana, was made secretary-treasurer.

To Arraign L. A. Man June 15 On Charge Of Theft

Thomas Marke Mathews, Los Angeles man, was arrested Wednesday by Los Angeles police for Deputy Sheriff Merle Dean and returned to Santa Ana, where he faces a charge of grand theft. He later made bail of $3000 for his appearance in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court on June 15, for arraignment.

According to the complaint in the case, Mathews is asserted to have defrauded George E. and Alma M. Fletcher, of Anaheim, out of $850 in money. The crime was asserted to have taken place on November 5, of last year.

Details of the case are not known in Santa Ana, but according to the justice court, the deal is said to have been a stock transaction.

FALSE ARREST IS CHARGED IN SUIT

Damages totaling $20,000 are asked by Harriet Gertrude Hazelton in suit started yesterday for change of venue from Los Angeles to Orange county was approved and filed in the county clerk's office. The complaint charges Charles E. Schwenck, who is listed in the directory as a resident of Santa Ana, with causing her to be falsely imprisoned and maliciously prosecuted on charges of driving while intoxicated and failure to render aid.

The complaint declared that Schwenck caused her to be arrested and prosecuted in Oakland in June, 1929, on the charges and that a jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" on the conclusion of the case. Later, according to the complaint, the plaintiff was forced to appear before the justice court in Downey to answer to the same charges. The damage action was taken to the Los Angeles superior court and was transferred here on the strength of the affidavit filed by Schwenck.

Court Notes

The case of Otis H. Hemphill, charged with non support, was continued in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday until December 11. He was arrested the day before and released until today when he appeared in court.

Leon J. Kellar, of 484 Letterly street, Los Angeles, was arrested at Seal Beach last night by Deputy Sheriff F. L. Humiston on a drunk charge. He was brought to the county jail.

W. H. Stewart, Santa Ana man, was arrested near 305 Garfield street last night by Officers Swain and Murillo. He was charged with being drunk.

Petition for probate of the will of Ann E. Charleston was filed yesterday with County Clerk J. M. Backs by the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association. Assets of the estate are estimated at not in excess of $10,000. Four sons are to inherit the property under terms of the will.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of Herbert A. Tompkins, which has been filed in court, shows that the estate is valued at $1975.

The Travel Man said, "Well, my son, if you think it would be some fun to eat a dish of seafood, we will have some for our lunch. But, in the meantime, let's walk 'round the town and see what can be found. I'll take you any place you wish. Has anyone a hunch?"

"I have!" cried Scouty. "Yes sir! You always can depend on me to make a good suggestion. Here is what I have in mind. If seafood is plentiful, I'd like to start out on a leisure hike and find some stream where it is caught. Some strange things we may find."

"Me, too!" said Carty. "Come, let's go." The Travel Man replied, "I know the very spot you're thinking of. It isn't far away. We'll see clam diggers by the score, all digging clams up by the shore. I rather think that this will be an interesting day."

Just then a funny cart drove by. The Tinies heard somebody cry,

S. A. Pastor Addresses Placentia School Graduates

76 PUPILS OF GRADE SCHOOL GET DIPLOMAS

PLACENTIA, June 12.—"Be square with yourself first and then with others," said Dr. George A. Warmer, pastor of the First Methodist church, Santa Ana, speaking to graduates of the Placentia Union Grammar school at the graduation exercises held at the Bradford avenue school auditorium last night.

He showed how squareness, honesty and sincerity were necessary for real success in life. During his speech a bird circled the auditorium and he used the incident to advantage by showing how many people were like the bird, wandering about in confusion with no real aim in life.

Presentation of awards followed Dr. Warmer's speech. Leon Gillian presenting the American Legion medals which are awarded the boy and girl who are voted highest in honor, character, leadership, service and scholarship. Winifred McCool, class president, and Eli Allie received these medals, the final decision being made by a secret vote of the class. To Mildred Sutton was awarded the chamber of commerce medal for the greatest advancement in scholarship. H. S. Leavitt making the presentation.

Superintendent Glenn Riddleberger presented gifts to Katherine Watson, for perfect attendance during all the eight years of grammar school, and to Anita Olivas, honor student, who had the highest marks in any in the class.

The Rev. D. J. Brigham, pastor of the Presbyterian church, led in the invocation after the march of the 75 graduates. Next was an orchestra number, "Spring Time" led by W. G. Axworthy, and then came the address of welcome, "Life's Mirror," by Winifred McCool. Presentation of diplomas was by Leo Lyon, president of the school board.

Knopf, instructor at the University of Southern California, addressed the students on the subject, "Is Life Worth Living?" He declared that it was up to the individual to make his life worth while and that the one who put the most into making his life got the most out of it. He pointed out to the graduates that they were, in a sense, at the climax of their lives, and that a great deal depended on the steps they took on leaving high school to face life.

The graduating exercises opened with a march, "Romance" played by the high school orchestra. Following the march, Nels Boege, accompanied at the piano by Helen Mott, played a flute solo. Other musical numbers were rendered by a double quartet. The class sang the "Recessional," by Kipling. Following the exercises, the class sang three additional numbers, first "America, the Beautiful," then the "Star Spangled Banner," concluding with the class song, "The Blue and Gold."

NEWPORT BEACH, June 12.—R. K. O. Pathé put a group of actors, mechanics and photographers on location at Newport Beach yesterday. The force is working on scenes for a comedy serial.

The company took scenes all day Thursday at the bay near the ferry landing and had a force of 30 to 40 people at work. Just how long they will be at Newport Beach was not definitely known. A scene taken yesterday included a comedy sparing match between two husky heavy-weights, who also put on a clever boxing show in addition to the comedy. They had an audience all day at their work.

Goodale, who is an electrical engineer for the Standard Oil company, declared that in the past 70 years, more than 700,000 oil wells have been drilled in the United States, although at the present time only a small percentage of these wells are producing. The original form of power and the present power is steam, Goodale said.

The speaker pointed out that companies have developed a direct-current generator, used for wild-cattling which at the present seems to be a success. He predicted that the electric current will eventually replace steam in oil well work.

A report on the second meet of the model aircraft builders was made. The club members, who sponsor the aircraft club, planned for another meet on the night of June 26. At this time a silver cup will be presented by the local post of the American Legion to the winner.

Miss Kritz will take up her duties with the schools in September. She has been with the county health department during the past year. She came here from Denver where she was a public school nurse. She is well known in this city and at Huntington Beach to many mothers through her work in the baby clinic. Miss Kritz resides in Sunset Beach.

The graduation party planned by the Buena Park Women's club for Saturday afternoon has been postponed on account of the death of Mrs. Martha Simpson, a member and past president.

Announcement of a later date for the party will be made in the near future, according to Mrs. Martha Salter, retiring president of the club.

Every possible safety precaution is being taken to make the beach safe for the busy summer season, and with co-operation of the public and bathers, Newport Beach is expected to have few accidents.

The life saving department is equipped with the latest equipment for the character of work they may be called upon to perform. Private telephones lines connect the life guard station with the fire stations and rescue squad composed of city firemen trained in that work. The telephone system is confined to the life guard stations and fire departments, giving instant communication in case of emergencies.

ROBBERS' ROOST

by ZANE GREY

INSTALMENT 11
"Hullo, here you are. I waited at the barn," said Hays gruffly.
"Howdy, boss, I took a short cut down," replied Jim.
"I seen Smoky an' had a word with him. So your trip come off all right? You shore made them blacks step."

"It wasn't as pleasant a drive as you'd imagine," returned Jim, darkly.

"Haw! You must be one of them woman-haters—Outside of the side of it, what happened to Jay?"

"Nothing to concern you or your outfit. Smoky saw me yesterday before I got a line on him. He ducked off the road. At Grand Junction nobody paid any more attention to me than I'd expect."

"Ahuh. That's good," replied Hays, and going over to the pack beside his bed he rummaged about to return with a packet, which he slapped down upon the table.

"There you are, Jim. On our first seal."

The packet unrolled and spread out—bills of large denomination.

"What's this for?" queried Jim.

"Quick action. That's how we work. Your share, Smoky fetched it. Jim did not care to give the impression that he was unused to this sort of thing. Straddling the bench he sat down to run through the bills.

"Five thousand six hundred," he said, as if to himself, and he slipped the money inside his pocket. "Much obliged, Smoky. Now I'll be able to sit in a little game of draw."

"Jim, ain't you got any news at all?" inquired Hays, searchingly. "A feller with your ears an' eyes shore would pick up somethin'."

Miss Herrick fetched a Wells-Fargo package to her brother, rejoined Jim, slowly.

"Then it's come," said Hays, cracking his hands. "Herrick was expectin' money last stage."

After supper Smoky was the first to break silence.

"Boss, now Wall is back you can make up your mind about what I'd like to do."

"Jim, listen to this: Smoky an' the other fellers, except Brad, want to make a clean sweep with this next drive. What you think?"

"Clean Herrick out?" asked Jim.

"That's the idea."

Jim pondered a moment.
"It'd be harder work, but save time, and perhaps our bacon as well. These cowboys are going to find out pretty soon that the cattle have thinned out. If Smoky drives a couple thousand more it'll be sure to be found out, sooner or later."

"See that, boss. Wall sees it just as I do. There's plenty of water along the road an' feed enough. Let's make it one big drive."

"Wal, it'd mean leavin' Star Ranch sudden," cogitated the robber chief.

"Shore. An' that's good."

"But I don't want to pull out of here sudden," declared Hays.

"Why not? If we get away with ten thousand head?" queried Smoky astonished.

"Then ten thousand won't close the deal I'm on."

"What's you up your sleeve, Hank?"

"That's my business. Yours is drivin' cattle."

"You mean to rob the Englisher? Hank, don't be a hawg!"

"Hays, if you'll excuse me, I'm thinking Smoky talks sense," interposed Jim, quietly.

"My mind's made up. We'll stick to our first idea. Two fellers make drive after drive, goin' slow...that'll give me time!"

"Ahuh. So you'll risk goin' agin' the whole outfit," interrupted Smoky, with a curious gaze at his superior.

"Wal, yes, if you put it that way," replied Hays, and he stalked out.

"Smoky, will you start the second drive tomorrow?" asked Wall.

"I'll lay it up to my outfit. Wal, so long. See you soon, one way or another."

He went out. Jim heard a few sharp words pass between Smoky and Hays, and then silence.

Next day he went back to work on the new barn. A subtle change in Hank Hays augmented his suspicion of that individual. Jim let him alone.

Herrick was around as usual, interested in every detail of the building. Hays had gone off with the cowboys across the valley to put them upon some job there, which no doubt was a ruse to keep them away from Limestone Springs, where most of the stock grazed. And the day had ended without one glimpse of Helen Herrick.

At breakfast the following morning Hays surprised Jim.

"Was the Herrick girl out yesterday?" he inquired.

"I didn't see her."

"You didn't say what kind of a looker she was."

"Oh, that," laughed Jim. "I forgot or didn't think you were interested."

"Wal, I'd like to see her once before our deal's off here."

Hays had his wish fulfilled next day. He was at work on the new barn, on the far side from where Jim was occupied, when Miss Herrick came down with her brother. Jim stared as if his eyes deceived him. An English riding habit was shown to him only from pictures. She looked queenly. Jim did not look at her face. Besides, he wanted most to see the effect upon Hank Hays. That worthy's hawk-like head was erect, but Jim could not see the telltale eyes. Hays stood transfixed.

Herrick and his sister walked toward Jim's side of the barn.

"Good morning," she said. "Bernie told me how you shot bob—no, jack rabbits—from the saddle. Want to see you do that, I want to learn how. Will you show me?"

"I'd be pleased, Miss Herrick."

"Tomorrow, then, you will ride with me?"

"I'm at your service."

"Well, you'll oblige me my riding with my sister when it suits her," said Herrick.

"Yes, sir," returned Jim, gazing across at the statue-like Hays.

The couple moved off toward the open yard, where mounted cowboys were leading out saddled horses.

"I seen her, Jim," Hays said, as if the event were epic. "She walked right by me."

"What if she did, Hank?"

"'Nothin' what was she sayin' to you?"

"It seems Herrick told her about my shooting jacks from my horse, and she wants to see it done."

"You're goin' ridin' with her?"

"The luck of some men!"

"Hank, shall I tell Herrick you'll go in my stead?"

"Nix, much as I'd like to. I can't hit jumpin' rabbits."

Hays hung around the barn, mostly idle, watching the valley, until the Herricks returned. The cowboys brought the horses down. Whereupon Hays abruptly left. And he did not come back. From that hour he became an elusive man.

That day ended Jim Wall's carpentry. On the next he was summoned early after breakfast to ride with the Herricks.

Under the stimulation of this girl's inspiring presence Jim gave an exhibition of swift and accurate shooting that surpassed any he had ever accomplished.

"Marvelous!" she exclaimed.

"Helen, he's a bally good shot," declared Herrick.

That night Hank Hays evinced slight but unmistakable symptoms of jealousy, occasioned, perhaps, by Jim's report of killing thirteen out of fifteen bounding jack rabbits.

Happy Jack, wide-eyed and loud-cried, acclaimed Jim'sfeat as one in a thousand.

"Air you that good frontin' a man who you know is swift?" drawled the robber chief.

Jim stared. "Hank, I'm not so good then," he replied slowly.

"Wal, somebody'll try you out one of these days," added Hays.

"I daresay," he rejoined, coolly, and sought his seclusion. He refused to let that linger in his mind. Something else haunted him. His slumber was troubled.

MATEER IS TO
RE-ENTER DRUG
BUSINESS HERE

There's an old saying that "chickens come home to roost," and E. T. Mateer, who has been associated with Vandermast, Inc., for the last two years, will bear out that old saying when he returns to the drug business in Santa Ana within the next 30 days.

Mateer was in the drug business in Santa Ana for 20 years and then sold out all interests to enter the men's clothing business. But as he says, he feels like a "fish out of water" and he is going back to his old business.

Mateer has taken a lease on the corner at Third and Main streets, formerly occupied by the Green Cat and will open a drug store before the middle of July.

The old Main Drug company on North Main street which recently went into bankruptcy was in no way owned or operated by Mateer, but he will endeavor to purchase the stock and supplies at a receiver's sale. If he is not successful in this endeavor he will purchase a new and complete stock.

Mateer will retain his financial interests in Vandermast's but will devote his entire time to his drug business and he assures his many friends and acquaintances that the progress he has pursued for the last 20 years will be maintained when he opens his new store.

CLASS DAY IS OBSERVED AT
HIGH SCHOOLPERISCOPING PROSPERITY
FOR SANTA ANA BUSINESS

Basing his belief on his experience in Santa Ana business circles and upon a study of national reports, Otto R. Haan, president of the Cadillac Garage company, incorporated, is of the opinion that bottom has been reached in the business depression, and that progress is being made toward normal.

Speaking of business conditions, Haan said yesterday:

"A study of reports on business conditions shows that the crisis has passed. For the past three weeks it has maintained a steady level with no declines and a few indications of increase in some lines."

"I do not expect any sensational increases until fall but it is a good sign that it can be expected by that time when the people are taking on a more optimistic mood. People in Orange county and Santa Ana, and I believe all over the nation, are more optimistic today than they were 30 days ago. In my own line we receive more inquiries every day that indicate a buying spirit is being created again."

"People are looking at automobiles with a view to buying within a short time. A few months ago purchases would not be considered where the need for an automobile was not immediate."

"Another indication of returning prosperity is the fact that repossession on used automobiles sold are decreasing and collections are improving. There never has been a great percentage of repossession on new cars sold but during the past year there was a decided increase in the used car end of the business. This increased as the unemployment situation became more acute and the recent decrease is indicative, to my mind, that employment is increasing."

AIR BUDGET CUT

BERLIN.—Business conditions have been felt so far in Germany that the Reichstag recently cut the 1931 German aeronautical budget. Present figures call for appropriations of $10,300,000, a drop of more than $800,000 from last year's appropriations.

ESTABLISHING OF RECREATION
BODY PLANNED

Suggestion for the formation of a city playground and recreation commission was briefly discussed at the meeting of the Santa Ana board of education yesterday, and the idea met with approval on the part of members of the board.

Members plan to investigate the possibility and feasibility of inauguration of such a plan in Santa Ana during the summer and go more deeply into the discussion of what could be done along this line next fall, when it is planned to hold a joint conference with the city council on the project.

The two bodies now work together in maintaining the summer playgrounds, which are conducted on city school property and financed jointly by the board of education and city council. Long Beach has such a plan in operation and it is planned to invite officials of that city to explain the matter before the school board and council.

Funds for the operation of the summer playgrounds are handled through the office of the city school administration, but the budget for operation of the playground work is to be set up by an executive committee composed of a representative of the city council and W. M. Burke, who was appointed to represent the school board. Expenditure of funds is also to be approved by this committee.

So much interest has been manifested in the garden party which Legion auxiliary members are giving tomorrow afternoon in the Tustin avenue home of Miss Louise Tubbs, that the ways and means committee planning the affair, has found it necessary to increase the number of tables for the accommodation of bridge players.

The Volney Tubbs home is a charming spot, its gardens offering spreading shade trees, grassy spaces of lawn, and an abundance of flowers, making it an ideal setting for a garden bridge party. The committee members, Mrs. Myrtle Swarthout, Miss Louise Tubbs, Mrs. Adelaide Nussbaum, Mrs. Emma Penn, Mrs. Eva Allender, Mrs. Florence Robinson and Mrs. Alta Marske, will adapt the floral motif to be seen in the setting, to their tally cards, score pads and refreshment menu.

Those who have not yet made reservations for the party, should call some member of this committee yet this afternoon in order to be certain of having places at the tables. The tables will be arranged in groups to accommodate players who wish to pivot in small parties or progress with the main body of contestants.

Interesting Talks
Given at Meeting
Of ForumFarewell Party Given
Preceding Departure
For Utah

The meeting of the Woman's Forum held Tuesday noon in the Y. M. C. A. was attended by 20 members and two visitors, Mrs. C. Jacoby of San Francisco and Mrs. Sophie Patterson of this city.

Impromptu talks followed the usual luncheon, with Mrs. Harry Gardner in charge. Those taking part were Miss Hester Covington, Mrs. Carl Mock, Mrs. C. C. Vogt, Mrs. Sam Hurwitz and Mrs. Ray H. Snyder.

Mrs. Marie Fowler acted as toastmistress for the day, giving a clever little talk in introducing one of the speakers of the day, Mrs. S. A. Allen. She talked on "China, Her Silver, and the New Mint." She told of how the new Chinese mint was designed by an American. In referring to the coin of the Orient, Mrs. Allen said that the perforated coin has been used there until the present day.

Continuing, she said that the Arabs have introduced a piece of silver into China, and this is valued at its weight, only. Each province has its own coin, she said.

Mrs. R. R. Russick was introduced as the second speaker, and she discussed "Believe It or Not," using the statue of Bacchante as an illustration. First she discussed knockerbockers, then the dress of 1876, and lastly, the purely feminine dress.

Mrs. Major Anderson, as president, presided during the meeting. Mrs. John Clarkson served in her usual capacity as adviser.

During the business meeting, the leader, Mrs. B. R. Day, was in charge. All members having birthdays in June or July were presented with bouquets of flowers.

Mrs. Cosby is a bride of three months past, and will be remembered as Miss Frances Mallars.

A pretty party of recent date was the surprise party given this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Brunner, 1418 Orange avenue. The marriage of Miss Hill to Edward Vandy is to be an event of the near future, as is that of Miss MacLaren to Charles Snyder.

Each cluster of blooms was combined with delicate maidenhair fern, quantities of which had been sent by Mrs. Mitchell.

Tip For Overweights

Overweights, lend me your ears while I expound to you the American Medical association's journalistic dictum on the cause of excessive fat. Here it is:

"The fundamental feature of obesity remains a positive energy balance. On that basis it can be intelligently treated."

Those are a lovely lot of two-word words, but boiled down they mean just one thing—if you are too fat, eat less, and let that less be the fat-forming foods.

The individual can be slim and supple without losing one atom of superb fitness and well-being. If his choice of food eliminates excess fats and starch foods, replacing them with fruits and vegetables, milk and milk products. This change gives the body the life-giving vitamins and mineral elements needed to be happy, healthy and slim.

Remember the rule I talk about so much: First satisfy your appetite with cooked vegetables, green salad, some sort of fruit, preferably uncooked, some milk, a little meat or other protein food (eggs, cheese, etc.) After you have taken the edge off a keen appetite in this fashion you can safely satisfy the rest of your appetite with your favorite dessert. BUT, don't forget that I say satisfy, not satiate.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Baked Halibut

1 thick slice halibut

Flour and salt to dredge

1 chopped onion

1 chopped green pepper, small

3 slices bacon, chopped fine

3 slices plain bacon

1 can tomato soup

Halibut, and other white-meated fish fish, need careful cooking or they are apt to be dry and tough.

These are the lean-meated fish and your personal taste may choose other than halibut. But the cooking method does not vary.

Set the oven for 400 degrees F.

and while it is heating, prepare the fish. The slices should be about 2 inches thick. Wipe with a damp cloth and trim off shaggy ends. Dredge in seasoned flour and put it in a casserole in which you will first put the 3 slices of unchopped bacon.

Strew with chopped onion and green pepper over the fish, the chopped bacon over the vegetables, pour the can of tomato soup around the fish and start the baking.

As soon as the chopped bacon begins to sizzle, begin basting the slice of fish. After half an hour lower the heat, baste occasionally, and finish baking. Time required about 1 hour.

There are four portions in this recipe, each worth about 340 calories.

Halibut is a protein deficient fat, but here the bacon adds its place, while the chopped vegetables and tomato soup lend the necessary mineral elements so vital to general good health.

HONEY AS FOOD

The United States department of agriculture states that honey is one of the best of the high energy-producing foods. It is easily assimilated and for that reason is particularly beneficial in cases of disease or old age. It does not place much of a burden on the digestive tract and so is regarded as valuable for babies and young children. It is also stated that honey is particularly good in the diet of athletes.

CHOCOLATE DROP COOKIES

$\frac{1}{4}$  cup fat
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup honey
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 egg
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
About  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups flour
Vanilla

Cream the fat and sugar together, work in the honey, the chocolate which has been softened over hot water, and then the beaten egg. Sift the soda, salt and flour together and add to the batter a little at a time alternately with the sour milk. Drop from a teaspoon and bake in a moderate oven.

Chopped nuts may be added if desired, and the cookies may be mixed with sweet milk by using only half a teaspoon of soda and adding a teaspoon of baking powder. This dough may be kept almost indefinitely in the ice box, and baked as needed, as the cookies are much more delicious when fresh or even warm.

APPLE SNOW WITH BOILED CUSTARD

$\frac{1}{4}$  cup thick, smooth apple sauce.
3 tablespoons honey.
Flavoring extract if desired.
2 cups milk.
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
3 eggs.

Separate the eggs and put the whites in the ice box until needed. Beat the yolks slightly with the honey and salt, scald the milk, pour a part of it over the yolk mixture, stirring until smooth; pour it into the rest of the hot milk and cook slowly, stirring constantly until it is slightly thickened and coats the spoon, not letting it boil, as it will curdle. If it curdles slightly it may be restored to smoothness by heating with a Dover style egg beater after removing from the fire. Set the custard aside to chill, and when ready to serve beat the egg whites stiff, and then beat in the apple sauce a little at a time, until all is used. If it is not sweet enough beat in a little honey. Serve the snow in individual dishes with the custard poured around it. It should be thoroughly chilled.

GRAHAM MUFFINS—"EAT WITH HONEY"

1 egg
2 cups thick sour milk
2 cups Graham flour or whole wheat flour
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup white flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 tablespoons of melted fat.

Beat the egg in a mixing bowl, add the sour milk, shake in the Graham flour a little at a time, and then sift in the white flour in which the other dry ingredients have been mixed. Add the melted fat and bake in a hot oven in preheated gem irons, which have been well greased. Tins may be used if the irons are not available. If it is desired to use sweet milk, use only  $\frac{1}{4}$  cups, omit the soda and increase the baking powder to 4 teaspoons.

BOLSA

BOLSA, June 12.—Gilbert Trudeau, former local barber shop proprietor, who recently sold his business here, paid a farewell visit in Bolsa before leaving with Mrs. Trudeau for Detroit, for an extended stay. Mrs. Trudeau submitted to an operation recently which had delayed their trip. They have been staying with Mrs. Trudeau's relatives in Anaheim.

Harry Rork Jr., has come from Bakersfield, where he spent the school term with his mother, and will be with his father for the vacation months.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jessie, who some months ago purchased the Bowers property located on Wright road just south of Bolsa boulevard corner, moved to their new home from Costa Mesa Friday.

Normand Post, local aviator, who last week flew a Zenith plane to Seattle for shipment to Alaska, reached home Sunday, having returned by rail.

Mrs. Frank Walker and daughter, Miss Veda Walker, have gone to Arlington to remain for 10 days.

Miss Hill and Miss Haas, teachers in Bolsa school, are leaving soon for their homes in Pasadena.

The extensive remodeling under way on the Louis Bauer store building will be practically completed by the end of the week.

L. D. Head, for many years a resident of Bolsa, was in Bolsa from Long Beach one day recently seeing after business interests and calling upon old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Showers and daughter spent Sunday at Irvine Park.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen have as their house guest, Mrs. Allen's father, who has arrived from Las Vegas, N. M., on a two week's vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rainey, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Post, who have been spending the past three months as guests of their local relatives, have left to motor through to their home in Chicago.

The tiling for the drainage canal along Wright road south from Bolsa boulevard is now being laid. A 12-inch tile is being used at the source of the canal. The work is to be finished before the work of macadamizing Wright street begins and the dirt which will be taken from the road is to be used in filling in the canal. The macadam finish on Wright road is to be 20 feet in width.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth attended a dinner and anniversary celebration Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard at Silver Acres, who were entertaining in honor of their son, John Howard, and Mr. Howard's father, Thomas Howard, each of whom had a birthday this week. The two sisters of Thomas Howard, Mrs. Robert Clark, of Garden Grove, and Mrs. Lester and Mr. Lester, of Santa Ana, were also of the party.

The regular card party of the Bolsa social club is being held Thursday evening of next week instead of this week and a chicken supper will be served in connection at the Bolsa clubhouse.

Mrs. Stela Farnsworth attended a social at the home of Mrs. George Lewis, west of Garden Grove, when

20 STREETS IN LAGUNA BEACH ORDERED PAVED

LAGUNA BEACH, June 12.—Giving hope that the long delayed improvement may be under way at the end of the summer, the city council Monday night adopted the resolution of intention for paving 20 streets and most of the alleys in the cliffs section of Laguna Beach. After A. B. Monroe, engineer representing Arthur Ellis, special attorney for the city, had given the opinion that the contract could be let and the work started by August 1, Councilman Frank B. Champion protested against tearing up the streets until after the summer season had closed. This resulted in a clash with Mayor J. E. Bishop, who took the position that the council never had intended that the streets be torn up during the season. When the controversy cooled down, the councilmen, without formal action, promised that the residents of the section would not be inconvenienced. City Engineer Frank P. Gowan said that there was enough preliminary work to keep the successful contractor busy until after the summer crowds have gone.

Mr. Gowan said he has not completed his preliminary estimate of the cost. The same proceedings were gone through last year and a low bid of $130,000 was turned down by the council and the proceedings abandoned. Under the new proceedings the paving will be of a heavier type asphaltic concrete and it is probable that the contract price will be well over $150,000. Sidewalks will be laid in the Cody tract, but on the other streets only curbs and gutter will be laid.

Progress on the Glenney street improvement, including portions of Park and Laguna avenues and all of Legion street, was reported by Mr. Monroe, who said that publication of service on all defendants in acquisition proceedings, who could not be reached personally, had been ordered yesterday by the superior court. There still are six slope easements to be secured and Mr. Monroe suggested using the 1913 improvement act, but declared it would take a year before contracts could be let.

The council denied the petition of Howard G. Heisler, large property owner in Laguna Beach, to abandon an extension of Beach street, running from Cliff drive to Broadway. Mr. Heisler said the improvement would make the assessments confiscatory against a triangular piece of property bounded by Broadway, Cliff drive and Beach street. Broadway has been paved with a heavy duty pavement and Beach street and Cliff drive are included in the cliffs improvement. Mr. Heisler offered to give the city 30 feet at the intersection of Cliff drive and Broadway to make a safer turn at that point. Councilman C. R. Clapp was the only member of the board to uphold his contention.

The report of City Treasurer Marion Weaver Rawson showed a balance of $19,935.98 in the general fund June 1 and $16,082.83 in other funds for a total of $36,062.42.

The new fire hall, just completed at a cost of $20,000 for building, property and equipment, was accepted from the contractor, Marion G. Schleicher. CHAMPS MARK TIME
FOR NEXT FLAG RACE

Ochoa is scheduled to pitch for the home guards this eve but Lackey is likely to give some of his regulars a layoff. Outfielder Wayne Nelson, who bruised his trick shoulder in a heavy fall after making a sensational catch against Colton Wednesday, being one of those listed for a vacation. Ed Daley probably will be in center field with John Lutz at first base.

Most important of tonight's games is the Anaheim-Whittier shindig at Whittier. Anaheim has three after two straight and it may be three after this one.

"DE LAWD" NOT FOR AL JOLSON

"Green Pastures," the great Broadway success, in which Richard Harrison has been impersonating "De Lawd" for nearly two years, is to start on the road the coming September. Its producer expects that it will have a run for five years on the road; and it is not an unreasonable expectation in view of its phenomenal success in New York.

When a film production of the play was suggested, Al Jolson, of singing fame, aspired to play the part of "De Lawd" in the film. We have little doubt that he might have acted the part well; but it would be difficult for the public to divorce him from the parts in which he has played. That fact in itself would detract from the effectiveness of Al Jolson in playing the part. Indeed, we doubt if any one who has been before the public in other roles, could assume the part and make the success of it that has been made by Richard Harrison. That part requires something more than acting ability. It calls for a sympathetic understanding of the religious life, which Richard Harrison seems to possess in a unique capacity.

Therefore, the producer was wise in refusing the part to Al Jolson. It would be a very easy matter to undo all the impressiveness of the play if another character should take the leading role. There is already much of comedy in the play, and the only factor that relieves it from being more than caricature is the dignity, the solemnity, and the reverence injected into the part of "De Lawd" by Richard Harrison. Without him it would cease to be the success it has been. It was Richard Harrison who created the part, and any other in the role would now seem to be a misfit.

If the play is finally filmed, the parts should be taken by the same men and women who have made it the crowning success of the theatrical world of the last two years. This is not to reflect on Al Jolson at all. To many it would be as anomalous for him to take the part as it would be for him to take the part of the Christus at Oberammergau. In parts which assume the character of Deity, great care must be taken that he who plays such a part shall suggest in his delineation and in his mode of life nothing that would disturb or shock the most sensitive religious spirit.

A COUNSEL OF PERFECTION

Dean Mullins, of Barnard College in New York, suggested to the graduating class of that institution that they would confer no greater benefit upon society at the present time than to continue their studies a while longer rather than seek a livelihood in these days of depression when so many are out of a job.

On the surface, that seems like sound advice; but the more we look at it the more we begin to raise questions. Many of those who are graduating from our colleges are men and women grown. Thus far in life they have been a total financial liability to their parents and to themselves. It is difficult to imagine the privations endured by many who receive their diplomas at this season, and the sacrifices that have been made by parents during the long years of study. To tell them that they must continue their studies when their money is gone and debts have been piled up is a counsel of perfection which will be discouraging to those who imagined they were on the threshold of life's work.

The counsel might well be heeded by those who are rich; but we would hardly expect that the poor and impudent student would welcome it, unless, perhaps, the colleges would be willing to assume their support, which most of them are not able to do. It is a trying time for graduates, but most of them might as well take the plunge into life even if the water is not so fine.

TELEVISION PROGRESSES

The period is rapidly approaching when the people in the home will not only be able to hear over the radio, but when they will be able to see the speaker or whatever it is desired shall be transmitted through the air into the home.

In Chicago yesterday, there was a demonstration that shows that many of the "kinks" and "bugs" have been taken out, and the performance clearly seen in a small picture, the size of which, of course, can be enlarged to any extent by means of lenses.

According to a report, there are about 20 television stations in operation in the country. The Radio Commission, however, is very slow in granting stations television permits, but it is a mere matter of time, and that relatively short, before as complete sound pictures can be placed in the home as now are shown in our theaters.

BUTLER'S SPEECH

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, delivered an address yesterday before the American club of Paris. He emphasized in that address that what the world is needing is leadership. He said we have done nothing toward finding the solution for the present situation—we have tried to find somebody to pay the cost of the World war, that's all. He further said that we might just as well try to find somebody to pay the cost of operating the sun—it can't be done.

He says the war debts must be charged off to profit and loss, and "let us find new men who will take a constructive lead." He declared the action of the rest of the world causes Russia amusement; that the interesting fact about Russia is not its Communism, but that it has a plan for an economic future.

We feel that these suggestions are worth publishing and emphasizing. It is probable that very few thinkers would disagree with most of what President Butler says. We are getting nowhere and we are getting there fast. We do not know whether we lack leadership, as he urges. Sometimes we think we have too many leaders, particularly in America. There aren't enough followers.

Each of the leaders has his own idea, and if you get a group of men together, they may agree upon the points that President Butler has brought out, but they do not agree upon the way out. If President Butler would suggest that way, he might help the people very greatly. We wonder if it is possible that many of our public men, who are addressing themselves to this problem, see a way out and dare not make the suggestion. Several of them have made suggestions of what will happen and must happen if something else isn't done, but why don't they start out and do the "something else"?

Business seems to be picking up in America. It certainly is getting some better, but it is not improving in some sections of the world. Germany and Great Britain, particularly, have such serious problems to meet, and the meeting of which causes such differences of opinion that most anything is likely to happen. And it is happening in Germany.

Wings Over South America

Christian Science Monitor
The flight of the DO-X across the South Atlantic brings into sharp focus the gradual disappearance of South America's trade isolation, imposed by lack of modern railroads and dependence upon slow-moving coastal steamers. Along 5000 miles of her coast line North American French and German companies are actively competing for supremacy in the air.

In southern Brazil some three years ago a pioneer line was established by the Condor Syndicate, the Reich-subsidized associate of the capable Deutsche Luft Hansa. A route tapping the richest commercial areas of Brazil was mapped out providing an effective instrument for the extension of Germany's trade influence. Today the twin engine Dornier-Wal flying boats and the smaller Junker seaplanes are traveling along a route from the southernmost point of Brazil to Natal, Brazil, the jumping-off place for Europe.

Following the Condor Syndicate, the Compagnie Generale Aéropostale of France founded a base line at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and fast mail planes carrying only a few passengers were sent traveling southward to Buenos Aires, Argentina, northward to Natal, and across the Andes Mountains to Santiago, Chile. Fast steamers now carry the mail from Natal across 1800 miles of ocean to Dakar, West Senegal, Africa, whence it is relayed by air to the European countries.

Finally, the Pan American Airways, an international transport system, covering some 22,000 miles of airway between the United States and South America, was inaugurated. This service today is faster than either the French or German lines as connection is made by air all the way between destinations, so that six-day mail time is possible between New York and Rio de Janeiro, which halves the steamship time.

South America, meanwhile, willingly lends impartial co-operation, well realizing that whatever airway system wins, South America eventually will reap the reward. And well may it wait content for a continent with $8,000,000,000 in potential business will always have commercial friends.

Uncle Sam Turns His Hand to Dress Design

San Francisco Chronicle
How many persons know that with all Uncle Sam's other accomplishments he is also a dress designer? He is, really. And, according to the chief of the division in which Uncle Sam's patterns are evolved, there is a demand "from all over the world" for exhibits of the official models for children's garments. Just think of that.

In taking up this business of designing garments Uncle Sam shows his tender interest in children. For he uses fewer than the customary number of buttons, thus encouraging the child "to learn to dress himself." No wonder his little nephews and nieces love him. Only the kindest of old ones would lay aside the heavy cares of running a great government to do odd jobs like dressmaking for the little ones.

While Uncle Sam has his hand in it, he is, it is hoped, some garment designing for himself. Those striped pants of his with the ankle straps are getting horribly old-fashioned. As he has made such a success of rompers he should try something for himself—something snappy and up to date. To go with jodhpurs, for instance.

Look Out For Reno!

Fresno Morning Republican
We are just beginning to hear some of the fruit of Reno!

Reno, the city symbolizing the "new freedom," the opportunity to do what one pleases.

The opportunity to have pleasure at the cost of the other fellow.

The opportunity to escape from responsibility for the benefit of Nevada's boarding house keepers and justices of the peace.

The opportunity to waste substance for the benefit of Reno's tinhorn gamblers.

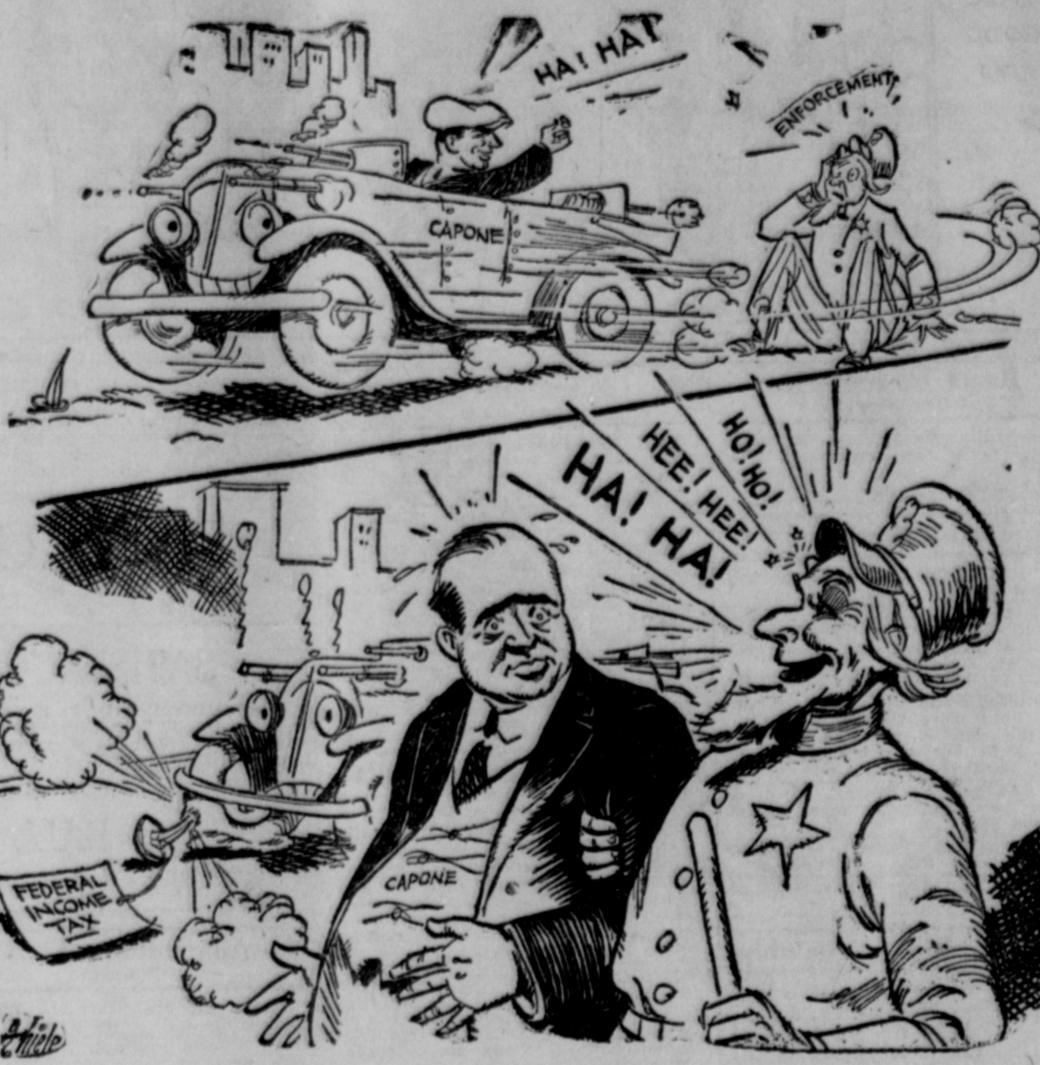

Where is the easy money, there the racketeers will gather.

Reno, haven of men who want excitement, and men who want profit from this excitement, is now becoming the haven of those other men who are parasites on excitement.

Just as bootleggers fall victims to hi-jackers, so are the easy money men of Reno beginning to fall victim to the pickup men, the blackmailers who live off them.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

Mahatma Gandhi can find no support in Nature for his hope for universal peace.

When tomatos yowl and hiss bandy upon the roof, without curse, They lead unhappy Mr. Gandhi To think despairingly of peace. No common, worldwide legislature, However potent it may be, Can modify the laws of Nature Or pacify the world, says he.

The dog pursues, from force of habit, The 'coon,' the wolf pursues the dog, The fox pursues the fleeing rabbit, The pelican pursues the frog. The shark, when for a meal he wishes, With greed in his malicious eye, Pursues a school of frightened fishes, And they, in turn, chase smaller fry.

Life is not placid, but exciting: One sees, with but a casual glance, That every living thing starts fighting. The moment it has half a chance. If one but read the stirring pages That tell him of the days of yore, He'll find that they record the stages Of many a fierce and bitter war.

We ought, with all our minds and learning, Which we for many an age have had, To stifle our indignant yearning To pick up guns when we get mad. We ought to have more patient merit, We ought to be as is the saint, And, when offended, grin and bear it; However, up to date, we ain't.

For Use and Not For Profit

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

"Production for use and not for profit" is the slogan of the League for Industrial Democracy. It is the core of the Russian experiment. It is a part of nearly all radical programs.

But none of this radical propaganda explains the functions of profit or the consequences of abolishing profit.

Communism abolishes individual profit and loss and the "wastes" of distribution under a competitive system; but it also assures individual freedom of choice. The communistic state decides what is good for everybody and undertakes to supply each citizen with the "standard" requirements. There is no risk due to changing wants; for the individual gets what is allotted to him, whether he wants it or not.

In like manner, the directors of the New York Foundling Society decide in December on the names, lodgings and occupations that are to be assigned to all the abandoned children who will be found on doorsteps during the following year. The children are not consulted.

If all members of society would turn themselves over to the care of a board of directors, and accept whatever was allotted to them, it would be possible to organize industry on some other than a profit and loss basis.

This, then, is the gist of the matter: Somebody must determine what goods are to be produced. The decision must rest either with the government or with consumers. It is impossible for any government to perform this service with satisfaction to consumers. Therefore consumers must decide.

The only way they can make their decisions effective is through exercising their freedom of choice in the ordinary course of marketing. This freedom of choice constitutes the chief risk of business, and gives rise inevitably to profits and losses.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

MODERNIZING OUR FEELINGS

Yesterday I called attention to a vivid and vital little volume, "The Contemporary and His Soul," in which Irwin Edman discusses, among other things, the way in which we moderns think in terms of a new world and feel in terms of an old world.

The innumerable traditions of what is good and true and beautiful—traditions that cling closer to us than breathing—flowed from the soil of a civilization that was utterly different from the civilization in which we now live.

I said at the end of yesterday's article that this sounds remote, academic, and philosophical, but it has an immediacy and application to us and our affairs that we cannot afford to ignore.

I have talked long with men who saw and said how interdependent the modern world has become, with its little arms of transportation, and communication, and its frontier-crossing agencies of credit, contract, capital, and corporate organization. I have had them tell me how impossible it manifestly is for a modern nation to think it can play a lone hand. And four weeks later I have seen them walk to the polls to cast their vote for a party that would pull the United States into its shell and attempt to isolate it from the world currents that beat against its shores regardless of its foreign policy. A case of old feelings getting the better of new thinking.

I have talked long with men who saw and said how throttling to the learning process is the over-formalization, over-organization, and over-institutionalization of our universities. I have had them tell me how we might increase the effectiveness and reduce the cost of education if we would but inform all our institutions, insisting that teachers teach less and students study more. And a few days later I have seen them enter a faculty meeting, and, with like-minded colleagues, huddle about the vested interests of existing educational forms and vote consistently against the mildest reforms.

A case of old feelings getting the better of new thinking.

In all fields of action, this warfare between old feelings and new thinking is going on, and it is re-thinking that is going on, and it is re-thinking and religious advance.

The effective modern is the man who has brought his feelings into harmony with his best thought.

OUR CHILDREN

THOUGHT POWER

Thought is a force. It is the compelling force in a child's growth. What you think affects his thinking and his conduct. What his teachers think affects his progress in school. What his companions think affects his social thinking and action. What he thinks decides what he is and what he does and what he will become.

"I'm going to skip a grade this term," announces a fibberly gibber. "I'm tired of poking along with you slow coaches."

"Huh. You only think you are," jeered the slow coaches.

What made the little fibberly gibber suddenly wish to show her speed and power? Why this sudden ambition to shine? Somewhere somebody thought about it and the thought reached Fibberly Gibber. She caught the thought and it created power enough to set her travelling in a new direction. She skipped a class, made up back work, and forged ahead in school. Up to the day when that thought took hold she had been idling and playing and getting nowhere. Mother had kept thinking and thinking and by that thought seeped into the head of little Fibberly Gibber and up she went.

Well I've got a idea for a great invention, I said. I'm thinking of inventing a biplane that can come down without the consent of the pilot because it will be covered with little balloons on top to keep it up. Do you think I could make a lot of money with that invention, pop? I said.

Well, I don't like to make any rash statements, pop said. It sounds to me like a one way invention. I mean you've provided for keeping your biplane up and you've negated to provide for bringing it down, he said.

No I haven't, either, pop. I said. All the pilot has to do when he wants to come down is lean out and shoot all the balloons with an automatic pistol, I said. That would be a extra added inducement because it would give you pistol practice and biplane practice at the same time, I said.

So it would by golly, pop said. In that case don't neglect to put me
